HERE'S HERBIE!

Here you are—issue No. 7 of "Herbie", greatest magazine in world. Much too good for you, but that's the kind of guy I am... like to do good. That's why I'm letting you read all about me in "Good Old Peep-whistle". Story like that worth a million dollars...you get it for lousy 12¢. And "High Spirits"—worth two million. Philanthropist, that's what I am. Good-natured, too. Haven't bopped a reader with this here lollipop for almost a week. But I'm going to, I'm warning you. Going to bop you if you don't write in and tell me how you like great stories I'm bringing you. You write it, I'll do you favor and read it. Maybe even publish it if it's interesting. So address it to "Herbie", 331 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. Do it now.

"Dear Editor:-

I don't want to get bopped by Herbie, so I'm writing. I've never written to any other magazine before, but Herbie is super-stupendous....great even! How much does Herbie weigh? (Nothing personal, Herbie!) I have all the "Herbie" magazines and am waiting for more. A fan as long as Herbie lives—

—Charles Meyerson,
22919 Masonic,
St. Clair Shores, Michigan."

Write to me, not no-good Editor—I bopped him. Notice you say I'm super-stupendous... you got perception, man. But this jazz about how much I weigh...all I can say is you better not let me land on you. By the way...if you like my stories so far, just wait till you see what's coming!

"Dear Editor:-

I've read every issue of your great new comic, "Herbie", and I'm happy to say that it's the best comic on the market. The best story of the ones I've read so far is "Herbie And The Loch Ness Monster". It was the greatest story in the history of comics! Shane O'Shea and Ogden Whitney are about the best team in all comics and Herbie has the chance to be the best hero—that is, if you handle him right.

—Joseph Stator,
P. O. Box 122, East Chatham, N. Y."

Another letter to Editor...gets me down. Now on, not even going to mention anything about it. Outside of that, you seem kind of a good Joe, Joseph. Know a good story, when you see one. What do you mean about me having chance to be best hero in comics —I am already!

"Dear Editor:-

Psst! Don't tell Herbie that I missed his first issue. I've been looking all over for it, but I just can't find it. I think you could help me out by printing the following: I am willing to pay from 25¢ to 50¢ for the first issue of "Herbie". If you can help, please do so. Thanks from a fan—

—Robert Rauch,
1950 Hutchinson River Parkway,
Bronx 61, New York."

Okay, Robert—we printed it. Hate to tell you this, but most holders of that first issue are holding out for a million dollars!

"Dear Herbie:-

I think your comic is the greatest thing since the hot dog—even greater! I promise to tell ten of my friends about it, and have each of them buy a copy, and then each of them will tell ten of their friends and so on. If each of your issues isn't a sellout, I'll send in the names of the people that didn't buy them, such names to be placed upon your Preferred Bopping List. Some people for your Bopping List that are my favorite enemies are Arthur Goldberg, Steve Abrams, Bernard Huffman and Jackie Abrams. P.S: Enclosed are two (2) Tutti-Frutti Lollipops.

—Chuck Kalus,
7011 Park Heights Ave.,
Baltimore, Maryland."

Hot dog people have new sales gimmick... giving away one copy of "Herbie" with each 10,000 hot dogs sold. Thanks for lollipops, excellent flavor. Placing names of your favorite enemies on Bopping List immediately.

"Dear Editor:-

Lo and behold, as I was browsing at the magazine counter, my eyes fell on something surprising, indeed. Herbie was back! I immediately dropped my other selections and rushed home to read about Herbie's heroic deeds. "Herbie And The Loch Ness Monster" was excellent, and Shane O'Shea should be congratulated on another swell effort. Herbie's great (right, Herb?), so give us more! He deserves it and so do we!

—James Jacob,
8710 W. 93rd St.; Overland Park, Kan."

That Loch Ness Monster deal turned out to be a bowling favorite. But there are other greats in store for you, James. By now you should have read "Big Fat Mess At The Okay Corral". How'd you like that gorgeous apple, bub?

"Dearest Heshie:-

Please don't bop me with your lollipop, because what I am going to say is going to shock you into a fit. I just got finished reading my first 'Herbie' magazine, and there is one question I would like to ask you. Why is it that the whole world knows you and your powers—while your own parents think you're a lazy sloth? This puzzled me a lot. In closing, this is my first letter to any publisher, but I'm sure it's not my last one to you!

—Emily Ruhle,

2657 San Medina, Dallas, Texas."

Don't worry, Emily...not going to get violent. You mean well. Just don't know old adage about prophet being without honor in own land. Parents don't want to give me any credit. Just as well. If they knew real truth, might go to their heads.

"Dear Editor:-

I read quite a few mags, but yours is the most. I think it was your Herbie who put New York on the map. I just drool when I read his adventures and I'm dying to read the next issue. Can't you hurry it up? Or do I have to ask Herbie to bop you with his lollipop? P.S: Orchids to your issue where Herbie battled the Loch Ness Monster!

—Bill Stewart,

52 Commonwealth Ave., Scarborough,
Ontario, Canada."

Herbie didn't just put New York on the map. If you believe him, he put the whole universe on the map, and he's just beginning. And if you don't believe that, Bill, just watch what's coming up in our future issues!

"Dear Herbie:-

I've followed your adventures ever since Cleopatra made love to you. I have just finished 'Herbie' No. 4 ('Big Fat Mess At The Okay Corral') and found it most enjoyable—bilarious, that is! I must compliment Ogden Whitney for his fine art and Shane O'Shea for his humorous stories. And you, Herbie, are the most unusual character I've ever come across—witty, stupendous, just plain funny! Now, you said you'd put any of my favorite enemies on your 'Preferred Bopping List'. Well, here they are: (1) The Postman—he never picks up my outgoing mail. (2) 'Nellie No Date'—she's a waste of paper and no good. A 'Herbie' story like 'Herbie's Typical Tuesday' would be much better. Thanksthanxthanks!

—David Silver,

Ohehyahrah Place, Danbury, Conn."

Got respect for you, David. Takes real hero to spell nome of your street. Stop complimenting O'Shea on his stories—where do you think he gets 'em from? They're all my true experiences—I tell 'em to him. And I don't like Nellie either. Sissy. Can't fight.

"Dear Herbie:-

I have been reading about your exploits since the 'Sueddiger Salad Oil' thing. And I just thought I'd write and tell you that I really appreciate what you've done for us overweight people. Were you in any other stories besides 'Herbie's Quiet Saturday Afternoon' and '1,000 Years Ago in 1962'? Glad you're keeping Hughes out of your book. Glad you're running it. If Editor Hughes tries to be a huttinski, I'd bop him. Out of all your stories in your book, my favorites were 'Herbie And The Dragon's Tears', 'Herbie And The Purlained Pops', 'What You Need Is A Girl, Herbie' and 'Popnecker Saves The Poorhouse'. I also liked 'A Little Fat Nothing Named Herbie' and 'Herbie Goes To The Devil'. P.S: I told ten friends to get 'Herbie', 'Forbidden Worlds' and 'Unknown Worlds' comics. The only thing was that they already huy them.

—John Scott,

1136 West Main, Temperance, Mich."

Hate to admit it, but omitted section of this fella's letter that said he didn't like "Big Fat Mess At The Okay Corral" and one other. What sort of hookie character are you, John Scott? "Okay Corral" best thing that happened to this world since I came on scene. Remarks like that mean you're risking multiple fractures. Abrasions, too—maybe even contusions. Better call out National Guard to protect you. Meanwhile, give you some info. "1,000 Years Ago In 1962" wasn't one of my stories, and don't make any more mistakes like that, or even the National Guard won't help. One more thing—one of my stories you maybe never read was "Herbie And The Spirits". Published in "Forbidden Worlds" No. 94. And if you're telling your friends about all our books, why leave out "Adventures Into The Unknown"?

WE DARE YOU TO READ THIS STORY AFTER MIDNIGHT! BETTER STILL, WE DARE YOU NOT TO READ IT, BECAUSE THAT WOULD MAKE THE FAT FURY FURIOUS. ANYWAY, TIE YOURSELF TO YOUR CHAIR, WAIT UNTIL THE GHOST IS CLEAR AND SHUDDER AT
